Last Minute Confessions

Thank you so much for your videos and ministry and explanation on Youtube. I'm currently learning about grace and your explanations have helped me so far tremendously. I watched this video of yours:

It is about the "Last Minute belief in the Gospel". And in there you said that it is possible that God receives this but maybe unlikely. So I was thinking about the thief on the cross who believed before he died and Jesus told him that he'll be in paradise with Christ. Why would you say it is unlikely that just before a person dies and repents towards belief that the person may be not saved or that God does not accept this? I thought there is still hope for a person when the person is still alive to repent from unbelief towards belief.

Hopefully you get this message. Greetings and blessings from Zurich, Switzerland

Of course I am not the one who decides if a person will be saved or not, have a place in the home of God or not. That is why the farthest I will go is to say the probability is high or low, or chances are good or not so good. I certainly have no way of knowing.

What I do know is that the Lord will make the ultimate decision concerning who He will resurrect or not, and I think people can look more towards Scriptural references, rather than the person of our God. I am of course not wanting to discourage Scriptural references, but I have gotten the sense that a lot of people are preparing to argue with God if He doesn't let them in when they die. I would not expect that to go well.

I have known of a lot of people who reject the Lord their whole lives. They definitely end their lives with a deep sense of emptiness, resentment, and they have a hard time not blaming God for the disappointing life they had. Some can certainly decide they want to be with Him in eternity, but it can easily be more of a decision of not wanting to go to Hell than a decision about being with and knowing the Lord. So, the Lord can certainly hear their prayer, and hear them tell Him something like this, "I lived my whole life rejecting you, and if I were to live longer, I would still likely reject you for those additional years. I have no interest in knowing you personally, but since I don't want to go to Hell, I will say I repent and believe in you now, so you can let me in, and I will just find some peaceful place to hang out in your Kingdom while you occupy yourself with others." I certainly don't know, but I suspect He might hesitate to respond to something like that. That's what I was thinking.

Psalm 51:11 & John 7:39

In John 7:39 we read, ... the Holy Spirit was not yet given but in Ps 51:11 David says, ... take not your Holy Spirit from me.

I have heard different views on this, but I would appreciate your thoughts on it.

In John 7, it was about salvation
In Ps 51 it was about the presence of God in his life.
This is my general view,
Still, I hesitate establishing doctrine from the lyrics of songs.

Isn't the presence of God in our lives salvation?

God was present with the children of Israel in the desert, but they certainly were not saved by being born again into a new creation through being made alive by the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit. Those are two completely different things.

Wow. That's amazing. I didn't see it that way before. Thanks

We live in a time era between the resurrection and the return of Christ. During this time in history, God is making new creations. There were none like us before the resurrection and there will be none after, people who can know Him in ways no one else ever has or ever will. You and I are part of a unique tribe in that way, of few people, but still growing in numbers until His return. This is very important.

Most Sincerely,
Aaron

Recent Testimonials

I didn't understand the life and death issue of the gospel until I first heard it explained by Pastor Budjen. I'm growing in understanding. I knew I was born again, I just didn't really know what that meant until now. This admission is kind of shocking (too me), as I'm deeply versed in the scriptures and Christian history. I have a deep love for the fathers of the fFaith -- from Saint Polycarp to C.S. Lewis, but I've never heard the gospel so correctly and so succinctly described as by the Pastor. And the Spirit in me is bearing witness that the twin components of the gospel -- of forgiveness and resoration of the Life giving Spirit as Pastor Budjen describes it is the truth. I perceive this because of my own unique born again experience, and only what Pastor Budjen is teaching explains my experience. The people in this world today are so spiritually dead -- in the churches and out! I've been feeling that for a very long time, and I apologize if that sounds prideful. I could go on about this, of particular, I'm thinking about the topic of being in the "image of Adam" as Pastor Budjen explains. I've been saying this too, but had no idea I was saying it. Anyway, enough! God bless All!

Your talks on God's grace and love that's ours always gives me a hope that casts out amy fears.

It also casts out my feelings of being less than others and helps me rest in Him.

I have closely listened to your teaching for the last 4-5 years. I have experienced what you have presented about living by relying on what Christ did for us, has brought me closer to our God. You speak the truth. You have taught me more clearly about grace and its practical impact on my life than any one in the last 40 years of trying to follow Christ.

Just wanted to thank you for all the material you produce and let you know how I am glad for your programs. They have been helping me greatly as I have been speaking to my brother again and you seem to have a program on every topic we have been discussing. I really don't know if he is "saved" or not but he has read the Bible many times over yet can't make good sense of it (sorta like me before I got ahold of your programs) Anyhow, just thought I would let you know, he seems genuinely excited to get into your material.

I have been listening to your verse by verse study on the book of Acts. I think this may be the 3rd time I've listened to this series of teachings and I always hear something new that gives me more insight into what Jesus is doing here on earth. Your teaching in "Acts 17: The temple not made by hands" made quite an impression on me. How profound when you said: God does not want your money, He wants YOU; God does not want your service, He wants YOU.

Long Beach, CA

Thank you so much for your ministry. I enjoy learning about our Lord, especially through the historical Judaic references. I am continuing to grow in my faith. I still struggle in many areas, but I am getting to know God deeper. God bless you as you and your ministry share the good news of what the Lord Jesus has done!

Quartz Hill, CA

Thank you for your insight and intelligence in teaching the Bible! I listen to you on radio at 4:30 AM and 7:00 PM Monday - Friday. You have taught me more about the Bible stories than I learned in my entire life! I am now 80 years old. You changed it from 66 books to one story about one great God - our Creator!! It has totally deepened my relationship with Him and I am thrilled!!!
